BEAUTY, GRACE AND SONG Mingled in Spectacle Unequaled in Records of Home Talent Productions

(By W. V. Kidder.)

Beauty, art, music are valuable as they inspire and interpret our emotions.

As one sat in the audience last night and saw them mingled; the rhythm, the croon, the dash, the grace, they became, indeed, a trinity to inspire.

There was a wide range for appreciation in the great choruses, the subtle and dreamy love songs, the snappy dialects and clever shafts of wit.

We go to the theater to be entertained and amused, to have aroused within us pleasing sensations and impulses, to be inspired with thoughts and fancies that make the world seem a good place to live in. We go because we live in a brighter atmosphere and because what we see leaves with us opportunity for pleasant reflection. No one who saw the Elks' minstrel last night found cause of disappointment.

Beauty, art, music, youth, well—all those things which are so pleasing to the senses, were there.

It was a splendid and cultured audience, the most potent factor, perhaps, in theatricals, amateur or professional.

From the low-hummed and swelling "Auld Lang Syne," when the curtain rose on a brilliant stage, until this same old song rang out in the final ensemble, there was a romping sound of music, low and sweet, now furiously, now flowing, now swelling, and in the two hours of entertainment the audience did not, in fact, have a chance to realize that what they saw and heard was really the work of the young ladies and the young men of their own city.

One of the notable features was the strength and harmony of the big choruses. The sweetness of the lullabies and the dreamy strains of the love songs filled in the soloists' important part, while the rollicking, unaccompanied, rag-time melodies of Dixieland, and the bright, quick-fire comedy of the end men went to make up a really professional program.

The opening number, an overture by the company, was followed by Mr. Steve Strecker, who sang "Will You Be Out Tonight," assisted by the comedians, Mr. James Novak, Mr. Ed Newburg, Mr. Holly Shepard, Mr. Phil Christell, Mr. Jake Padesky, and Mr. Aubrey Richmond, who starred throughout as end men.

Mr. Padesky distinguished himself early in the evening in "If He Comes In," assisted by the end men in a clever dancing accompaniment.

Then, before the audience had ceased to tap their toes, in time with the echoes of this rag-time frolic, Inspector W. S. Meikeljohn introduced Mr. Harold Cummings, who sang "Just for a Girl" until every old bachelor in the audience wished he were in love.

When it came to singing no one has it on Aubrey Richmond and besides being a singer, Mr. Richmond can turn a step that would make Olympic circuit riders look like cripples. Mr. Richmond sang "That Love Rag" until the whole house showed a boisterous approval of both Mr. Richmond and the dancing end men who took part.

Jack Weinhaupt put on "Good-bye, Good-bye," in a manner that must have pleased his best girl, and the big chorus which wound up the refrain made it one of the very tuneful numbers.

Then came dainty Miss Elsie Ott. She really looked like the "Baby Doll" she sang about, and the clever steps in this tiny little song, gave it a distinct charm.

As usual Mr. Ruel E. Russell was there with a love song, and from the way he does it he must know a lot about love. Whenever you hear Ruel sing it's a love song; sometimes from the boxes, sometimes from the wings, but always a love song. And he puts such expression into it one can but believe Ruel is singing to someone who really lives. From the title of the song we take it that he does not call on her week days, likewise that he is singing "Save Your Kisses 'Til Sunday Night" was the title of his song. From the way the chorus sang the refrain it might be suspected there are other Elks who go visiting Sunday night.

What could be a more reasonable plea than "Don't Wake Me, I'm Dreaming." Miss Anna Ahern of Winona, with a voice as charming as a dream itself and seemingly fitted best to dream songs, was called out again and again to repeat her charming number.

There was a lot of good music. Real dummies commenced to get in their work when the premiers, Mr. Frank Burgess and Mr. Fred Ruppin were introduced by Mr. Meikeljohn. Mr. Ruppin and his "Way Down in Georgia" were real minstrel features. The melody of this piece and the har-

BLOW POSTOFFICE SAFE AT DRESBACH

Yeggs in Daring Job in River Town Some Time Early This Morning; No Clue

SECURE $200 IN STAMPS But Fail to Get Money in Inner Compartment of Steel Safety Box

(By W. V. Kidder.)

One of the most daring safe blowing jobs in the history of this section occurred between 10:30 last night and 6:30 this morning when yeggs blew the post office safe in the general store of W. H. Harrington at Dresbach, Minn.

The robbers secured $200 in stamps but failed to get a large sum of money in an inner compartment of the safe which belonged to W. H. Harrington, the postmaster.

The robbery was discovered at 6:30 this morning when Harrington opened his store to find the door of the massive steel safe blown clear off the strong box. A hasty investigation showed the stamps to be missing.

Notify Local Police The La Crosse police and police departments in other river towns immediately notified of the robbery as was Postoffice Inspector J. S. Nicholson, at La Crosse.

A hurried investigation this morning failed to disclose any clues but the work is believed to have been done by expert cracksmen. The police base their theory on the fact that the job was cleverly done. The door was blown clear off the safe and the explosion did not disturb the peaceful village.

No one was seen to enter the town late yesterday or during the night and it is considered probable that the yeggsmen drove in during the dead of night, entered the store, cracked the safe and made their getaway before dawn.

TOBACCO TRUST PLAN DEFENDED BY NICOLL

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Speaking for the American Tobacco company, Delancey Nicoll, in the United States circuit, today defended the proposed disintegration plans of the tobacco trust, and bitterly attacked the independent tobacco companies for opposing the proposed reorganization plans.

In opening Nicoll said the American Tobacco company officials had been harassed for four months by Attorney General Wickersham and his assistants with "radical changes" to the proposed reorganization, and that the Wickersham ideas had been adopted.

"And yet we come into court with this reorganization plan perfected," declared Nicoll, "and find scores of our competitors here as protesters. These protesters merely are our competitors who are seeking to destroy their competitor—the American Tobacco company—that they drag the chestnuts out of the fire for themselves."

OPOLUSAS, La., Oct. 31.—Wan and tired, her pale face seeming even paler by comparison with her somber garb, Mrs. Zoe Runge McRea took the stand again today in an effort to clear herself of the charge of murdering young Allan Garland, whom she says she slew to protect her honor.

The cross-examination was brief and perfunctory, following the merciless grilling of Prosecuting Attorney Debusson yesterday. The effects of this ordeal were still apparent in Mrs. McRea's haggard face and trembling hands.

Mrs. McRea's testimony closed the defense's direct case, the only other witnesses being those held for rebuttal to testify to their client's character. It is thought that he case will be ready for argument by evening and will probably go to the jury early tomorrow, a quick verdict being expected.

CHILD BURNS TO DEATH

ELK RIVER, Minn., Oct. 31.—The nine months old child of J. E. McBride was burned to a crisp here last night. While the father slept the babe reached from the carriage in which it was lying and pulled off the table lamp. The lamp fell upon the carriage and the oil was spilled and caught fire. The child was burned to death before the father could lift a hand to save it.

DYKART TRIAL TO OPEN

ANOKA, Minn., Oct. 31.—The grand jury will meet here tomorrow to take up the case against James Dygart who, it is said, confessed to the Minneapolis police that he murdered Mrs. Walter Bolton, and her cousin, Frank E. Rhodes, on the Bolton farm in this county. It is believed here Dygart is preparing to repudiate the alleged confession and to make a fight for his freedom.

STATEMENT WAS FILED ILLEGALLY

Stephenson Attorney Says It Followed General Practice of Candidates

PROBE HAS LAST HEARING Stephenson and Campaign Managers Will Go on the Stand; Possibly Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 31.—In the expectation of putting Senator Stephenson and his campaign managers, E. A. Edmonds and Rodney Sackett, on the stand the Stephenson investigating committee began its last public hearing in Milwaukee. Lawrence Murphy, a Milwaukee broker, whose name was brought in yesterday, was first called. He said that Frank Vandersee of Green Bay asked him (Murphy) to see H. R. Pestalozzi of Milwaukee and try to engage Pestalozzi to organize the stations of the state for Stephenson. Pestalozzi was to get $1,500 or $2,000. Pestalozzi was supporting McGovern, however, and refused to consider Murphy's proposition.

H. A. J. Upham of the firm of Cary, Upham & Black, Milwaukee attorneys of Stephenson, was next called to tell of the making up of the Stephenson accounts. He said he had a hard time to round things up, making trips to Marinette, going into the books in many places, etc. Altogether he found that in the primary election Stephenson had parted with $111,385.49.

This did not include the $2,000 contributed later to the state central committee or other expenses. He cited the various checks and money paid out by Stephenson personally.

Attorney Upham said he had nothing to do whatever with the books or accounts of Edmonds or Sackett and never attempted to ascertain what was in any report of Stephenson paid out. He simply ascertained and reported the amount Stephenson "parted with," not what was done with it or who disbursed it. The witness did not prepare the final report which Stephenson signed and which showed $107,793.05. It appears that Edmonds and Sackett returned $25,922.44. Strictly construed, the witness said the statement filed would not comply with the laws of Wisconsin, but it followed the practices of candidates at the time. It was not filed within the specified time, he said. There was a disagreement among lawyers, he said, whether the accounts should be filed thirty days after the primary or thirty days after the actual election by the legislature. It was filed February 11, 1909. The other candidates filed a month after the primary. The final form was drawn by E. M. Hyzer.

FLEET OUTLINED IN FIRE WAKES GOTHAM

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—New York, which affects to be blasé, admitted today that it took Uncle Sam's great navy to furnish her a spectacle greater than the most spectacular theater manager ever attempted to arrange.

Last night's illumination of the 100 battleships, cruisers, torpedo boats, destroyers and miscellaneous war craft, in the Hudson river, was admitted on all sides today to have been one of the most gorgeous electrical displays ever seen in America. The display will be repeated to-night.

Silhouetted in thousands of incandescent lamps, which traced their keels and lattice work fighting tops as in a fiery scroll, the hundreds of great search lights beaming straight into the air, the great armada in the Hudson river presented a scene that has never been duplicated in this country.

Admiral Osterhaus must take 100 warships out of the Hudson river and through the Narrows and lower bay, always packed with shipping. To carry so great an armada in safety will be a feat that seagoing men say will tax the ingenuity of the fleet commander.

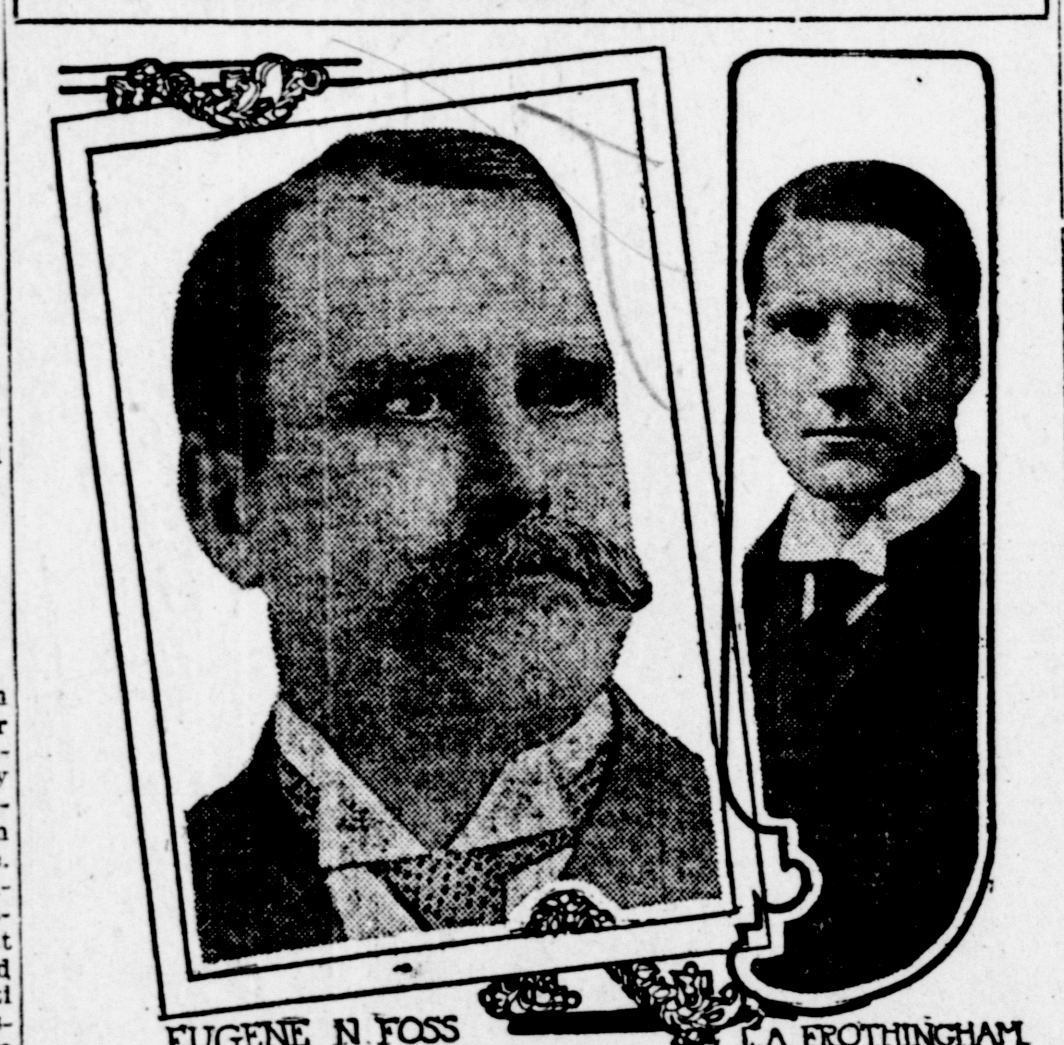

VIEW ONALASKA TRACKS

The committees on railroads and streets and alleys met this afternoon at three o'clock to inspect the tracks of the La Crosse and Onalaska street car companies at Livingston and Loomis streets. There is a resolution up for consideration before the council providing that the railway lower the grade there but it has been claimed that there is no grade there and the committees will investigate the matter thoroughly this afternoon.

BOWLING CLUB GIVES PARTY

The Ladies' Bowling club of the Holy Trinity church entertained at a card party last night, in which prizes were awarded as follows: Skat, first prize, Joe Boruff; second, A. Hammes; Solo, first prize, Mrs. Behrend; second, Joe Jungen; Clinch, first prize, Mrs. Kiehl, Miss Webber; second, Mrs. Cassell, Annie Dansbury. Consolation prizes were taken by Miss G. Denny and Etta Hengel.

Election To Forecast National Contest

EUGENE N. FOSS

BOSTON, Mass.—The approaching gubernatorial election in Massachusetts is being watched with interest from every section of the country, as it is generally thought that a landslide either democratic or republican, will give an accurate idea of public sentiment generally.

Governor Eugene N. Foss is the democratic nominee and opposite to him is the present lieutenant-governor, Louis A. Frothingham. National issues have been injected into the campaign on both sides. The republicans under the leadership of Senator Lodge are defending the Taft administration as progressive. The democrats are combatting the Taft tariff vetoes and whichever way the tide turns on election day, the victorious party will make the most of it for moral effect in the country, preliminary to the struggle for the presidency.

SENATOR CLAPP TO SUPPORT BOB COUNTY TO ADD TO STATE AID FUND

First District Progressive Republicans of Minnesota Hold Conference at Rochester

ROCHESTER, Minn., Oct. 31.—Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota last night made his long expected announcement of his intention to support Senator La Follette of Wisconsin for the presidency at a conference of First district progressive republicans.

The senator was in fighting trim and after asking for silence so he would not be compelled to overtax his voice, forgot all about it and proceeded to use it with vigor. By intimation he charged that President Taft was an example of the Bourbon forces of the party and again indirectly referred to him as the cause of republican defeats and advised that a good way to get rid of the difficulty was to get rid of the cause.

In the evening a banquet was given in the Masonic temple. Senator Clapp and Congressman L. L. Le-root of Wisconsin were the chief speakers. Brief addresses also were made by Judge F. T. Wilson of Stillwater, Mr. Nolan, Congressman Anderson and Hugh Halbert.

Congressman Le-root, who is the outside organizer for the Wisconsin senator, in his address outlined the work of the Wisconsin senator and combated the prevalent idea that Senator La Follette is radical. He said he was the greatest constructive force in the country. He said he had heard the claim made that Minnesota is a progressive state, but wondered what kind of a railroad commission it had when their own roads were permitted to earn 120 to 130 per cent.

PLAN LIGHTS FOR NEW LEVEE PARK

Estimates on the cost of installing the lighting system at Levee park are now being made and it is expected that definite figures will be submitted soon.

The standards which will be used for the posts are made of red granite and mica aggregate and finished with an acid wash, thus presenting a fine appearance. At the top where the globe rests are bronze grills and globe holders. Twenty-inch globes of 100 watts are to be used.

VACCINATION FOR TYPHOID

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Vaccination against typhoid fever is being urged upon 13,500 employees of the agricultural department by Secretary Wilson.

SAFEGUARD AGAINST HALLOWE'EN JOKERS

Take in the porch chairs, clear the clothes lines, lock the wood shed—in fact pick up every loose thing in your yard, for tonight is Halloween and the Bogyman is apt to be about. The police department has announced that everything will be done to curb malicious destruction of property, but the young blood is bound to have its day and tonight's the night.

FORTUNES OF WAR SWING TO TURKEY

Italian Troops in Tripoli in Grave Danger of Being Annihilated

IN TROUBLE WITH AUSTRIA Internal Dissensions Add to General Disorder; Turks Now Ready for Desperate Fight

Turks Capture Forts CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 31.—The Turks have captured two more forts at Tripoli, according to government information here, forcing the Italians to entrench within the city itself, abandoning quantities of arms and ammunition.

TRIESTE, Oct. 31.—Italy has seized and occupied the Turkish islands of Rhodes and Lesbos, according to dispatches received here from Milan. This is presumed to be a part of the naval demonstration threatened against Turkey in retaliation for its recent success in Tripoli. It is highly offensive to Austria.

VIENNA, Oct. 31.—The outlook in Italy today is alarming. King Victor's forces in Tripoli are threatened with worse than the disaster which has already overtaken them. There is danger of a clash with Austria. An anti-militarist and anti-monarchist uprising is imminent.

African news is still meagre, owing to the Italian control of the cables, but it seems certain that the Turks have reoccupied the outskirts of the city of Tripoli and are likely to drive the Italians out entirely. Reports that the latter lost 5,000 killed and had 7,000 taken prisoners are accepted here as true. Should the Turks recapture Tripoli, they can hardly be blamed for a slaughter of Italians follows after the brutality of the Italian massacre of Arabs—men, women and children—inside the city just before the Turkish attack began. How many were slain is uncertain, but it is reliably reported that the native population was practically wiped out under pretense that they might attack the Italians from the rear while the latter were engaged with the Turks.

The anti-militarists are so strong that a confession of the necessity for reinforcing the earlier expeditions, it is feared, would probably precipitate a dangerous uprising. The shooting of Col. Stroppa by Private Gaetano Misetti as the 25th infantry was leaving Bologna for Tripoli yesterday, was not an isolated case of mutiny. Nearly all the troops on their way to the scene of hostilities are rebellious and the utmost difficulty is experienced by their officers in handling them. Official dispatches say his comrades wanted to lynch Masetti. The truth is that widespread sympathy is felt for him.

What especially concerns Austria is the Italian cabinet's decision to carry out a big naval demonstration in Turkish waters in defiance of Austria's warning that Italian activities must be confined to Africa. The foreign office is understood to have less a satisfactory answer is returned, an ultimatum will first be sent to King Victor and then Austria will resort to force to compel compliance with its demands.

WARRANT FOR WELDA A warrant was today issued for the arrest of Raymond Welda, of Mindoro, charged with assault and battery against James H. Isbell.

INDIANAPOLIS OFFERS REWARD FOR SLAYER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 31.—With the appropriation of $1,000 by the Indianapolis city council as a reward for the solution of the mystery surrounding the murder of Dr. Helene Knabe, former state pathologist and bacteriologist of Indiana, Governor Marshall today said that the amount of the reward probably will be duplicated by the state. The coroner's inquiry into the physician's death is breaking down the strong points in the suicide theory, and it is now almost definitely established that the physician's throat was slashed by a physician.

FEW HYDE JURORS CHOSEN

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 31.—With twenty-five new veniremen in court and fourteen already chosen as talesmen, the second day of the second week of the trial of Dr. B. Clark Hyde for the murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope opened today with but little hope of making much progress toward the selection of the forty-seven men whom the final jury will be chosen.

REV. RICHESON INDICTED TODAY

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 31.—The Rev. Richeson was indicted by the grand jury at 4:00 o'clock this afternoon for the murder of Avis Linnell.

$37,500 TAMMANY PRICE OF JUDGE'S PLACE ON TICKET

Three Legal Investigations Started Today Into New York Judiciary Mix-up

TIGER CHIEFS FACING TRIAL Boss Charles Murphy Accused of Framing Nomination of Former Congressman

BAR ASSOCIATION IS TO ACT Thorough Probe of Great Political Scandal Promised; Libel Suit Is Dropped

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—On the eve of the county elections, Tammany hall is facing what its enemies declare is going to develop into one of the greatest political scandals in years and prove that Tammany hall had been selling places on the judicial ticket.

Three legal investigations were instituted today into the judiciary mixup and from the three, enemies of Tammany say, will come some startling exposures. John Doe proceedings have been started here by District Attorney Whitman, before Judge Rosalsky; an inquiry was started in Queen's county by District Attorney De Witt, and another in Brooklyn by Assistant District Attorney Elder.

A short time ago, William Berri of the Brooklyn Standard Union, charged that money had been used to cause the nomination of some of Tammany's candidates for places on the bench. Former Congressman William Willett, Patrick E. Callahan and Surrogate Herbert Ketcham, three Tammany candidates for supreme court judgeships, immediately had Berri arrested on charges of criminal libel. Berri seemed to be well pleased and declared he had no apology to offer, demanded an immediate trial and expressed a perfect willingness to prove every word he charged.

Suit Is Withdrawn The denouement was as startling as it was unexpected. The three candidates publicly apologized to Berri for having him arrested, and withdrew the suit. Then Ketcham and Callahan, in supplemental statements, declared they did so because they had learned that there was good grounds for Berri's charges.

They declared Willett had borrowed large sums of money immediately before he obtained the nomination. Willett admitted this, but declared he had spent most of the money in business enterprises and had saved $10,000 to spend in the campaign.

District Attorney Whitman today is investigating a report that one of the candidates raised $37,500, of which $10,000 was to go to Queen's county, $10,000 to King's and $10,000 to Manhattan. It is charged the balance was to go into the general campaign fund in Brooklyn.

Among those summoned by Whitman are Joe Cassidy, leader of the Queen's county democrats, who is charged with "dumping" Surrogate Nobel at the last moment and insisting on the nomination of Willett; Samuel Willet, brother of the candidate, who is said to have said publicly: "Oh, hell, all the candidates had to see Murphy." Louis Walters of Far Rockaway, close friend of Cassidy, who is named by Willett as having received $5,000 of the money the candidate borrowed, in return for some stock in an automobile building concern, and E. Sanford Hatch, broker, who is said to have arranged certain details of the Willett loans.

Murphy Fixes Deal According to charges made by attorneys for Editor Berri, Cassidy, Sam Willett, Hatch and Louis Walters drove to New York in a big automobile on the day of the nominating convention, seeing Boss Charles Murphy of Tammany Hall, put the matter up to him in the right light and procured his endorsement—which was equivalent to nomination—for Willett.

According to these same attorneys Willett raised, a few days before the convention, $31,000, instead of the $20,000 he admitted borrowing.

In addition to the grand jury investigation in Queen's county, Judge Humphrey, as president of the Queen's county bar association, has called a meeting of the association for Thursday in Long Island City, when the scandal will be taken under consideration.

CORNHUSKERS IN DEMAND

The corn husking season has opened and the demand for corn huskers is so great at the present time that Superintendent L. Kleiber of the local La Crosse branch of the State Employment Bureau is fairly swamped with requests for help. He has already sent large numbers to nearby towns and country districts but can use several more.

WEATHER

For La Crosse and vicinity: Fair tonight and Wednesday; colder to-night.

For Wisconsin: Fair tonight and Wednesday; colder east portion to-night.

For Minnesota: Fair tonight and Wednesday; continued cool.

For Iowa: Generally fair weather but with some cloudiness tonight and Wednesday; colder extreme east portion tonight.

Notes

A storm over the Gulf of Mexico has caused light to heavy rain in the gulf states and a moderate depression, now central over the lower lake region has caused light showers in the central and middle Atlantic states and rain and snow in the upper lake region, Ontario and the lower St. Lawrence valley. Elsewhere the weather has been fair and the temperature changes small as a rule. An area of high pressure covers the Canadian northwest. Fair weather will prevail in this section tonight and Wednesday with some lower temperature tonight.

SECRET PRACTICE ON FOR BADGERS

Coach Richards Will Work
Wisconsin Team Behind Closed Gates from Now On

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 31.—Only desultory practice was indulged in by the Wisconsin football team yesterday afternoon, owing to the bad weather and wet field. A brief skirmish with the scrubs was intended only as a workout, and only four of the regulars—Tanberg, Branstad, Mackmiller and Neprud—took part in this. Owing to the weather the contemplated secret practice was not held. It will begin tonight if present plans carry. Coach Richards still fights the over-confidence that too many of his men possess. It is maintained that Wisconsin's success against Northwestern was not so much in her own strength as in Northwestern's great weakness.

Apocryphal Richards' fear of the bug-bear of over-confidence, the players are telling one on him which shows his extreme caution at all times. In Chicago shortly after the game last Saturday Richards was told that Iowa had beaten Minnesota that afternoon by a real generous margin. Not waiting to verify the report (which turned out just the reverse), and to prevent his men breaking training by over-indulgence in Chicago restaurants in the belief that Minnesota was too weak to bother about, he ordered the team to start for home the same night. This explained why the team arrived home on the same day it left, an unusual occurrence for a Wisconsin team.

CARDINALS WIN
FROM GALESVILLE

The Cardinal football team made up entirely of advanced freshmen of the local high school, went to Galesville last Saturday and defeated the High school team there by the score of 50 to 0. The local boys were much lighter and speedier than their opponents. Their trick plays and forward passes are the key to their success in this game. They could not gain through the line or around the end, but Lapitz at quarter, continually slipped forward passes to the speedy ends, who easily got away and made long gains.

The Galesville institution has material to make a team as strong as the local high school's first squad providing they get the proper coaching.

These teams will play another game here some time in November and it is hoped that the Galesville boys will have improved enough by that time to play their opponents a more even game.

The Cardinals take this means of challenging any team averaging from 130 to 150 pounds, in this section of the state or southern Minnesota.

YALE PRACTICES ON GOPHERS' PLAYS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 31.—The beginning of permanent secret football practice at Yale has been set down for this week. It will begin on Tuesday and there will be few afternoons till the close of the season without a part of the drill taking place behind closed gates. By request of the faculty, at least some small part of the work will be in public, however.

Plays gathered by Springer Brooks, the Yale end rush coach, during his three weeks' stay in Minnesota are among those which the Eli coaches will teach in secret this week. Ex-Captain Tom Shevlin is also coming east this week to remain till the close of the season.

From tackle to tackle, Yale's rush line is pretty satisfactory, although it is due for much rigid coaching before the final games. The ends and backs are causing trouble, but Bomeister and Francis, the real championship ends, will be able to take their places this week. Captain Howe will run the eleven in secret signal practice and will be able to play the Brown, Princeton and Harvard games.

GIANTS WON BUT A SINGLE GAME

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The run credited to Captain Larry Doyle in the tenth inning of Wednesday's game, which gave the New Yorks their second victory over the Philadelphians in the world's series, was not legally scored, according to a statement made after the game by Umpire William J. Klem of the National league, who was officiating behind the plate as the umpire in chief.

Doyle did not touch the plate, according to Klem, and if the Philadelphia had made an appeal the umpire said he would have declared Doyle out, and the inning would have ended in a tie score. As it was getting dark the game could not have gone much farther.

Umpire Klem's declaration that Doyle did not touch the plate was corroborated by Francis E. Richter of Philadelphia and J. G. Tayler Spink of St. Louis, the official scorers appointed by the National Baseball commission.

Manager McGraw of the New Yorks admitted, after the game, according to Klem, that Doyle missed the plate.

Despite the fact that the umpire in chief and the official scorers say Doyle did not touch the plate to make the run legal, no protests can be lodged with the commission as the result of the game, it is said, because the Philadelphia club made no appeal on the play.

"KIDS" CAN CADDY
DURING SCHOOL

When the case of Roy Anderson, caddy master at the Racine Country club, charged with violating a state law which prohibits the employment of boys under 16 years who have not obtained a permit to work, was called in municipal court, at the second trial, the case was dismissed and the defendant ordered to pay the costs of the action.

The case was one which was attracting interest among the golf clubs in the state and the final action is regarded as a victory for the club. The case was tried a few weeks ago but resulted in a disagreement.

The contention of the state was that the boys were employed at a fixed salary, but the defense denied this, claiming they received only "tips" for services and that they were not regularly employed.

WASHBURN ELEVEN
DEFEATS B. A. C.

The Washburn eleven defeated the B. A. C. Athletic club on the high school grounds Saturday afternoon by a score of 10 to 0. Harris, the star quarters of the Washburn eleven, made several long runs which together with consistent gains on plunges and end runs scored two touchdowns for the school squad. Harris made both touchdowns. Following is the lineup of the Washburn team:

Schultz, le; Currie, lt; Smith, lg; Johnson, c; Enders, rg; Dickens, rt; Huebner, re; Harris, q; Ryan, lb; Johnson, rh; Simon, fb.

CORNELL SPRINTERS
TO MEET EUROPEANS

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 31.—A movement is on foot among Cornell undergraduates, and it is expected that the alumni will also join it, to make an effort to send the Cornell cross country team abroad next summer to meet English teams and possibly continental teams about the time of the olympic games. Thus far no negotiations have been entered into, the work to date being to arouse interest here so that the movement may be launched with vigor later.

GRIFF A SENATOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—This city's eternally springing baseball hope was "quite bright" today following the closing of a contract with Clarke Griffith to manage the Nationals during the next three years. It is expected that Griffith will have to develop new material for the present team is admitted to be "all in." With Walter Johnson and a few such youngsters as Eddie Ainsmith to start with, fans here think he will build up practically a new organization.

FANS FIGHT WITH HEROES

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 31.—Members of the sporting fraternity here today are treading lightly and anxiously. Andy Bezenah and Freddie Cole, lightweights. Last night the men refused to go into the ring because the money guaranteed them was not forthcoming before the fight. The spectators grew peeved, and a free-for-all shindy resulted, which will probably be made grounds for the clamping on of the lid.

What Ails You?

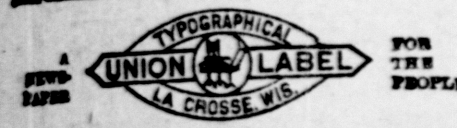

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medicinal plants. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WORK AT THE FARM SCHOOL

A survey of some of the work being done at the County Agricultural school the last few days displays some very practical things being offered for the young people who are planning to live upon the farm.

One day last week a class of young men, under the direction of Mr. Morris, went to the Cargill-Price Stock farm to study Hereford cattle. The animals of the herd are fine specimens of the breed, and the class was fortunate in having animals to work with which are being prepared for the International Fat Stock Show. The boys scored and placed the following classes: yearling heifers, fat steers, and bulls.

Not every young man in the class may become a breeder of such fine stock, but all could not help but gain much good from a study of the herd, the barn plans, feeding problems, and the general management of the herd.

While one class of students was thus engaged another class in Farm Botany was making a collection of the weed seeds of the locality, going into the fields where various crops have been grown, noting the weeds that are commonly found in each, and also into waste places, such as roadsides, fence corners, railroad tracks, and waste land along streams. The students are thus taught the natural habits of noxious weeds, where they grow, how scattered and their effect upon crops. Special emphasis is being given to the study of the weed seeds as they occur in grass seeds and in grain seed that are found on the market, and how to detect seeds in same.

Another class walked over a number of farms making a collection of soil types, such as the various grades of sand, clay, loam, peat and muck, noting the occurrence and characteristics as they exist under actual field conditions. The samples collected were taken to the laboratory where during the next two terms, each and all of these types are to be studied and compared with reference to their various properties, such as the power of each to take in water, power to retain soil moisture, power of each to draw moisture from the subsoil in times of drouth, effect of mulches, effect of application of lime to sandy and clayey soils, effect of good drainage, and a number of other practical problems that are becoming more and more important for the farmer and especially the young farmer to know about.

In the departments for young women you will also find work being offered of equal importance to them. In the cooking laboratories they are canning, preserving and pickling all kinds of fruits and some vegetables. In sewing you will find them not only being taught the principles of sewing, but actually making garments and articles needed about the home.

Another line of work being offered at the present time of great importance in the home is Household Management. This is the crowning subject of Domestic Economy, including a study of the relationship of all factors in the planning, furnishing and maintenance of the home.

It is to be hoped that more young people of the county will enter the school soon and take advantage of the excellent opportunities offered there.

Mr. Balmer, the superintendent, states that he has been at the homes of over two hundred young people from the farms of La Crosse County whom he feels are qualified to enter the school and who would profit by attending.

The young people cannot afford not to take advantage of the opportunities for practical training such as are offered at this school.

There are more than eight hundred thousand miles of pole line in operation in the United States and 32,000,000 poles.

Laxative Cough Syrup Cures When All Fail

Make it at Home

This fine recipe when prepared at home, is said to make the surest acting cough cure ever heard of. It has cured many in 5 hours by the clock. Fine for la grippe, colds, sore throat, and chronic bronchitis of old people, too. Any one can easily make it at home—a full pint costing less than 80 cents. Obtain a 2½ ounce package of essence mentho-laxene and make it into a pint of syrup by following simple directions contained in package. You make the syrup of granulated sugar and mix. Eight to ten doses daily create a laxative action of the bowels and cough and cold are soon cured as the poisons are carried out of the system. It relieves the tightest cough in one hour and cures the chronic cough of old people quicker and surer than anything ever heard of; while it is just fine for children's coughs, as they like it, and by its laxative tonic effect it prevents pneumonia, fever and other complications of colds.

Those in this city who have tried it, think it is the best thing ever discovered to relieve and cure throat and lung trouble. Here is the formula: Essence mentho-laxene, 2½ ozs. Granulated sugar syrup, 13½ ozs. Compared with labeled syrups, you save $3 or $4 by making at home.

QUIPS The Call of the Deep The moon rides high in the emerald sky; Sing ho! for a sail away. We'll leave our griefs to the By-and-By. As over the rippling lake we fly, Out to the shining bay.

The stars are bold and the night is cold; Sing ho! for the joys to be, For many a fest will the winds unfold, And many a story be sweetly told, Out on the deep blue sea.

Sing ho! sing ho! as away we go; Sing ho! for the lights ashore. But out on the deep, with our hearts aglow, We'll cast our cares to the winds that blow Forever and evermore. —Springfield Republican.

Very Convenient An enterprising builder was one day in conversation with several friends, when he was accused of using inferior materials in the construction of houses which he had recently built, says Tid-Bits.

A hot argument ensued, in the midst of which a gentleman arrived who lived in one of the Jerry built cottages, and the matter was referred to him. "Well, sirs," said he, "I can assure you they are the most convenient houses I ever abode in." "But," said one of the listeners, "why convenient due ye say?" "O, haud yer wheest till I explain. When first I cam' to bide in Mr. Jerry's house I had to rise i' the middle o' the night an' open the door to let out the cat; but the cat can gang out an' come in noo thro' the cracks, an' I'm saved a lot o' bother."

Business Suggestion Bobby had worn his mother's patience to the limit. "You are a perfect little heathen!" she remarked, giving way at last. "Do you mean it?" demanded Bobby. "I do, indeed," said his mother. "Then say, ma," said Bobby, "why can't I keep that 10 cents a week you gimme for the Sunday school collection? I guess I'm as hard up as any of the rest of 'em." —Harper's Weekly.

Surprising a Scot Following a recent dinner to John Fitz at the Manufacturers' club several of the steel men went to the Bellevue-Stratford for a brief chat, says the Philadelphia Times. The talk veered to the stolidness of the Scotchman, who, in spite of every suggestion, will not change after once deciding. To illustrate this point, Charles M. Schwab, who is one of the best story tellers, told the following: "Angus McTavish was a lowlander, wealthy and thoroughly Scotch, and had never seen the highlands or the beautiful lakes of Scotland except from a long distance. He paid a visit to America, and in New York, owing to his prominence, was shown all the sights.

"Was he impressed? He was not, and still thought the lowlands of Scotland far superior.

As a final chance to show Angus something that would impress him, the committee took him to Niagara Falls. Angus looked at them critically, and when asked if he didn't think them the most marvelous thing he ever seen remarked:

"Aye, mon. They are grand. But do ye ken the auld peacock in Perthshire that had the wooden leg?"

A New Creation Margaret aged eleven, had just returned from her first visit to the zoo.

"Well," said her mother, smiling, "did you see the elephants and the giraffe and the kangaroos?" Margaret looked thoughtful.

"We saw the elephant and the giraffe and the kangaroo."

"What?" said Mrs. Blank. "The kangaroo. It said 'these animals are D-a-n-g-e-r-o-u-s.'" —Harper's Magazine.

CAUSES MUCH DISEASE Advice About Stomach Troubles And How to Relieve Them

Do not neglect indigestion which may lead to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent physician once said that ninety-five per cent of all the ills of the human body have their origin in a disordered stomach.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be among the most dependable remedies known for the relief of indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing and healing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. They are rich in pepsin, one of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine. The relief they afford is very prompt. Their use with persistence and regularity for a short time tends to bring about a cessation of the pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets help to insure healthy appetite, to aid digestion, and thus promote nutrition. As evidence of our sincere faith in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give you entire satisfaction, we will return you the money you paid us for them, without question or formality. They come in three sizes, prices 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store. O. T. Erhart.

The PRODIGAL JUDGE The Famous Novel by VAUGHAN KESTER Copyright, 1911, The Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XXIII. The Judge Extends His Credit.

That afternoon Judge Price walked out to Belle Plain. Solomon Mahaffy had known that this was a civility Betty Malroy could by no means escape. He had been conscious of the judge's purpose from the moment it existed in the germ state, and he had striven to divert him, but his striving had been in vain, for though the judge valued Mr. Mahaffy because of certain sterling qualities which he professed to discern beneath the hard crust that made up the external man, he was not disposed to accept him as his mentor in nice matters of taste and gentlemanly feeling. He owed it to himself personally to tender his sympathy. Miss Malroy must have heard something of the honorable part he had played; surely she could not be in ignorance of the fact that the lawless elements, dreading his further activities, had threatened him. She must know, too, about that reward of five thousand dollars. Certainly her grief could not blind her to the fact that he had met the situation with a largeness of public spirit that was an impressive lesson to the entire community.

These were all points over which he and Mahaffy had wrangled, and he felt that his friend, in seeking to keep him away from Belle Plain, was standing squarely in his light. He really could not understand Solomon or his objections. He pointed out that Norton had probably left a will—no one knew yet—probably his estate would go to his intended wife—what more likely? He understood Norton had cousins somewhere in middle Tennessee—there was the attractive possibility of extended litigation. Miss Malroy needed a strong, clear brain to guide her past those difficulties his agile fancy assembled in her path. He beamed on his friend with a wide sunny smile.

"You mean she needs a lawyer, Price?" inquired Mahaffy.

"That slap at me, Solomon, is unworthy of you. Just name some one, will you, who has shown an interest comparable to mine? I may say I have devoted my entire energy to her affairs, and with disinterestedness. I have made myself felt. Will you mention who else these outthroats have tried to browbeat and frighten? They know that my theories and conclusions are a menace to them! I got 'em in a panic, sir—presently some fellow will lose his nerve and light out for the tall timber—and it will be just Judge Slocum Price who's done the trick—no one else!"

"Are you looking for some one to take a pot shot at you?" inquired Mahaffy sourly.

"Your remark uncovers my fondest hope, Solomon—I'd give five years of my life just to be shot at—that would round up the episode of the letter nicely," again the judge beamed on Mahaffy with that wide and sunny smile of his.

"Why don't you let the boy go alone, Price?" suggested Mahaffy. He lacked that sense of sublime confidence in the judge's tact and discretion of which the judge, himself, entertained never a doubt.

"I shall not obtrude myself, Solomon; I shall merely walk out to Belle Plain and leave a civil message. I know what's due Miss Malroy in her bereaved state—she has sustained no ordinary loss, and in no ordinary fashion. She has been the center of a striking and profoundly moving tragedy! I would give a good deal to know if my late client left a will—"

"You might ask her," said Mahaffy cynically. "Nothing like going to headquarters for the news!"

"Solomon, Solomon, give me credit for common sense—go further, and give me credit for common decency! Don't let us forget that ever since we came here she has manifested a charmingly hospitable spirit where we are concerned!"

"Wouldn't charity hit nearer the mark, Price?"

"I have never so regarded it, Solomon," said the judge mildly. "I have read a different meaning in the beef and flour and potatoes she's sent here. I expect if the truth could be known to us she is wondering in the midst of her grief why I haven't called, but she'll appreciate the considerate delicacy of a gentleman. I wish it were possible to get out flowers in this cussed wilderness!"

The judge had been occupied with a simple but ingenious toilet. He had trimmed the frayed skirts of his coat; then, by turning his cuffs inside out and upside down a fresh surface made its first public appearance. Next his shoes had engaged his attention. They might have well discouraged a less resolute and resourceful character, but with the contents of his ink-well he artfully colored his white yarn socks where they showed through the rifts in the leather. This the judge did gaily, now humming a snatch of song, now listening civilly to Mahaffy, now replying with undisturbed cheerfulness. Last of all he clasped his dinky beaver on his head, giving it an indescribably jaunty slant, and stepped to the door.

"Well, wish me luck, Solomon, I'm off—come, Hannibal!" he said.

At heart he cherished small hope of seeing Betty, advantageous as he felt an interview might prove. However, on reaching Belle Plain, he and Hannibal were shown into the cool parlor by little Steve. It was more years than the judge cared to remember since he had put his foot inside such a house, but with true grandeur of soul he rose to the occasion; a sublimated dignity shone from every battered feature, while he fixed little Steve with so fierce a glance that the grin froze on his lips.

GOPHERS STRONG AT END OF GAME

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 31.—Without giving anybody much of a line upon their true strength, or possible weaknesses, the Minnesota Gophers put four touchdowns over the Iowa goal line Saturday afternoon at Northrup field and left the limping fellows with the canary colored sweaters only the consolation that they scored. O'Brien, the Iowa center, booted two field goals for the Hawkeyes, one of them a truly wonderful kick, and saved his team from a blank. The final count was 24 to 6.

Minnesota showed nothing that had not been shown in the Nebraska game. Furthermore, the Gophers lacked the spirit they put into their Cornhusker victory with the exception of some bright flashes of brilliant work. In the first quarter Minnesota looked like a beaten team. They didn't have that old fire behind each move and each plunge into the line. They got going just before the end of the second quarter and shot over the first touchdown shortly before the first half ended. It was nothing but Minnesota in the third and fourth quarters, the Gophers cutting loose from some of their treasured forward passes for delightfully good gains and three more touchdowns. Morrell, the goal kicker's model, booted all four goals with chubby grace.

Health and Beauty Answers BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Violet: By all means let face powder alone, if you want a beautiful complexion. Powder clogs up the skin pores, causing enlarged pores, wrinkles and rough, discolored complexions. The only safe and satisfactory complexion beautifier I know of is made by dissolving four ounces of spumax in a half pint hot water, then adding two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This lotion will take away that shiny, sallow, greasy look and make your skin smooth, soft and velvety. It does not rub off so easily as powder does, and gives that much-desired, delicate, refined tone to the skin without an artificial, powdered look.

A. B. C.: Stop worrying over such a trivial thing and get an ounce of delatone. Mix enough with water to cover the hairs not wanted, and after two or three minutes rub off, then wash the skin. You will find delatone the most satisfactory thing to use for removing superfluous hairs; and even if it does cost a dollar an ounce, it is worth several times its price to have a smooth, hairless skin.

Rena: Your sallow, muddy, pimply complexion is due to impurities in the blood. To rid your system of these marks of ill health, you can find nothing better than this old-fashioned, homemade tonic: Dissolve a half cup sugar and one ounce karden in a half pint alcohol, then add hot water to make a full quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal, and you will be surprised at the wonderful health-restoring qualities of this tonic. It will give you energy, a good appetite and bring back the glow of perfect health to your cheeks.

Ellen: For your weak, tired, dull eyes, you need a good strengthening tonic. If you will get from your druggist an ounce of crystos and dissolve it in a pint of water, then put a few drops in each eye once or twice a day, your eyes will soon be clear of all inflammation, feel strong and be bright and sparkling. This tonic is splendid for granulated eye-lids and will be found very soothing. The use of this simple tonic has enabled many to dispense with wearing glasses.

J. S.: You are only one of the millions who have wasted many dollars on nicely perfumed hair tonics which did not good except to enrich the manufacture. For your dandruff-laden, itchy scalp, and thin, falling hair, get a half pint alcohol and one ounce of quinzoin at any drug store; mix these together, then add a half pint cold water. Two applications of this tonic a week to the scalp will do more good than all the "sure-cure remedies" on the market. It will put your hair and scalp in a healthy condition and you will then be praising this simple, inexpensive tonic to your friends.

Marjorie: To reduce your weight quickly and at small cost, without resorting to a restricted diet and fatiguing exercises, dissolve four ounces of parnotis in a pint and a half of hot water and take a tablespoonful before each meal. I find this simple, harmless remedy generally takes off fat rapidly, and those who have tried it tell me it is a marvelous fat-reducer, as it leaves the skin smooth and unlined. You can get parnotis at any drug store.

Nora: To have beautiful hair and a healthy scalp, you must keep your scalp clean. All the hair-tonics under the sun will not keep your hair and scalp in a healthy condition, unless you shampoo frequently and thoroughly. When washing your hair, never use soap in any form, as the alkali in it streaks and dulls the hair, causing it to split and become brittle. No shampoo preparation I have ever seen gives the hair such a clean, fluffy and healthy appearance as a teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water. This makes the finest shampoo imaginable and is inexpensive. It removes all dirt and dandruff, rinses easily, dries quickly and adds a beautiful lustre to the hair that you can't get with any other shampoo. I consider it the only perfect shampoo.

P. T. W.: You can get rid of those blackheads, freckles and large, dirt-collecting pores in your face, by using this cream-jelly: Stir together and let stand over night one ounce of almozoin, two teaspoonfuls glycerine and a half pint cold water. This makes a greasless cream that will not promote a growth of hair on the face. Use it for massaging to clear and soften your skin, and you will soon have just as fine and smooth a complexion as most women many years your junior. For removing freckles, tan and other skin discolorations, it has no equal.

WOMAN SMASHES
GUNDERSON BOAT

Advanced Money to Man who Sold it, He Disappears and She Vents Wrath on Craft

Although he claims to be certain of the identity of the person, whom he alleges to be a woman, who smashed his launch into kindling wood with an axe a week ago, Otto Gunderson, bartender at the Combination saloon, refuses to prosecute her, fearful that she may develop Carrie Nation characteristics and demolish his place of business with the axe.

Two months ago, Mr. Gunderson bought a new launch from a party whose name he refuses to divulge. The money, it appears, for the construction of the launch was advanced by the mysterious lady who later proved so adept with the axe. Having collected the money for the boat the salesman disappeared, without giving the lady her share of the sale price.

The lady naturally, was vexed, and a few weeks later she appeared at the boat house below the Black River bridge, where Mr. Gunderson had the boat hauled, and broke both sides near the center with an axe. The deed was done at night, and no one observed the deed. A week ago, after Mr. Gunderson had the boat repaired, she appeared one afternoon and smashed the bottom of the boat, and then told a riverman near that he could have it for kindling wood.

Mr. Gunderson claimed the boat from the riverman, and now declares that after having it repaired he will take it home and watch it carefully himself.

Father Murphy Receives Token in Honor of Twenty-five Years of Priesthood

In celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of Rev. Ambrose Murphy, pastor of the St. James church, to the ministry, the Alumni association of the St. James school last night presented Father Murphy with a purse of silver at a unique surprise party in honor of the jubilee occasion.

The members of the party slipped in through the back door of Father Murphy's residence, and the first that he was informed of their presence was when the strains of a jubilee hymn floated into his study, where he was engaged in instruction on catechism to a prospective member of the church.

The presentation speech was made by Thomas Skemp, a graduate of the St. James school, and now attending the local high school. About forty young people were present. The evening was spent in games, and a lunch was served.

Tomorrow marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of Father Murphy's first mass.

Bowels are Basis of Child Health

The careful mother, who watches closely the physical peculiarities of her children, will soon discover that the most important thing in connection with a child's constant good health is to keep the bowels regularly open. Sluggish bowels will be followed by loss of appetite, restlessness during sleep, irritability and a dozen and one similar evidences of physical disorder.

At the first sign of such disorder give the child a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring and repeat the dose the following night if necessary—more than that will scarcely be needed. You will find that the child will recover its accustomed good spirits at once and will eat and sleep normally. This remedy is a vast improvement over salts, cathartics, laxative waters and similar things, which are altogether too powerful for a child. The homes of Mrs. Evelyn Matson, 515 Milwaukee St., Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Kate Hawley, Waukesha, Wis., are always supplied with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and with them, as with thousands of others, there is no substitute for this grand laxative. It is really more than a laxative, for it contains superior tonic properties which help to tone and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels so that after a brief use of it all laxatives can be dispensed with and nature will do its own work.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

WHEN Helen refuses to light the signal fire on the hill-top of their far away lonely island, that the passing ship may not see and rescue the two castaways, we are presented with one of the strongest scenes in Charles Reade's absorbing story "Foul Play." While the court room scene, as well as the attempted robbery of the General's house, are intensely dramatic, the refusal of Helen to light the signal fire is even more so. The Edison players deserve great credit for the masterful way in which they hold the attention of the spectator to the very last. Great Movement of Freight Keeps C. B. & Q. and C.

M. & St. P. Crews Busy Night and Day

TRAIN CREWS ARE IMPORTED

Burlington Brings Men

from Galesburg to Handle Rush of Business

The roads running into La Crosse, especially the Milwaukee and the Burlington, are swamped with business. Extra freights are moving in every direction, and all the men available are working overtime to keep up with the amount of freight that is accumulating for shipment. Orders have been issued on the Milwaukee to send every available empty to Milwaukee as quickly as possible without losing local business, to relieve the car shortage that threatens the shipping centers.

The tracks of both roads are congested day and night by heavy freights, and the yard crews are tearing their hair at the amount of work that is being required of them in making up these same freights. The dispatcher is likewise losing hair by the handfuls, trying to find some way to get his trains through on time, and yet not disturb the workings of the extra stock and dead freight trains that are trying to get over the division constantly.

The Burlington has been forced to import three full train crews from the Galesburg division, near Rock Island, and all three are being worked to death hauling stock extras and other freight extras over the division.

The greatest problem is the lack of cars. This is said to be especially noticeable among the shippers on the La Crosse division of the Milwaukee road. Along that division for several weeks the visible supply of empties has been daily growing smaller, and difficulty is now experienced in coaxing out any available cars at all. It is said that it is now possible for shippers to get only a small portion of the cars which they ask for.

The greatest hardship from the car shortage seems to fall upon the potato buyers and shippers throughout the western and central portions of the state. Potatoes are plentiful, and the shippers have been loading them into practically anything on wheels and shipping them into the big markets. It does not require much of a car to carry potatoes when the weather is mild. Now even these cars are running short, and to cap the climax the shippers of murrhies are beginning to ask for good cars. They claim that the weather is getting too cold and near to the time for heavy frosts to risk valuable shipments in inadequate cars. They demand cars that can resist the cold.

The railroads are doing the best that they can, but they can't conjure cars into being by waving a wand. So lots of the shippers aren't getting the cars they need as quickly as they want them. They all kick to the railroad men. Wouldn't it make you mad if you were the yardmaster?

Why You Can Order
Sealshipt Oysters
With Certainty

If other oysters go wrong, the dealer who sold you, can blame the jobber, who sold him. The jobber can blame the shipper. The shipper can blame the grower. It is a divided responsibility. But with Sealshipt Oysters, grower, shipper, jobber, dealer—all are a part of a single organization. No division of responsibility—no chance for excuses.

The very day that Sealshipt Oysters are dredged from their ocean beds they are placed in sealed, sterilized containers. These containers, packed in ice, are sent by the fastest express straight to your dealer.

But Sealshipt responsibility does not stop with delivering perfectly fresh oysters to the dealer—it extends through to you. So this dealer is provided with a Sealshipt case shown below, a refrigerator—white porcelain inside and out—in which he keeps his Sealshipt Oysters.

From this Dealer's Sealshipt case you receive your Sealshipt Oysters. The Sealshipt—an individual package—is a double guarantee of the purity and freshness of the oysters—an absolute guarantee that you are getting the genuine Sealshipt.

Moreover, it enables you to get your choice of the world's best oysters—just as you buy your choice in cuts of meat. You can get solid oyster meats—no waste, a really economical food in individual ice cold containers.

The Chesapeake Bay Oysters, for example, sell for 5 cents less than Northern Standards. These in turn sell for 5 cents less than Blue Points.

These prices are for "Standards." "Selects" are larger oysters of the same kind—no better—merely larger. They bring 5c. more for the small Sealshipt—10c. more for the large Sealshipt.

Ask your grocer, market man or fruit dealer for a Sealshipt of these delicious oysters today.

(The variety stamped on top of the Sealshipt is your guarantee of the particular kind of oyster you prefer)

BOY SLAYER IS DENIED REHEARING

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 31.—The supreme court of Arkansas formally denied a rehearing in the case of Earl Gilchrist, the negro youth sentenced to death for the murder of Will Longley, his playmate. Only one member of the court, dissented on the ground that the evidence tended to prove that Gilchrist is only fifteen years of age. It is practically impossible, however, to obtain the negro's real age, owing to the negligence of the colored race in registering births.

It is certain now that an appeal will be taken to the governor who has been flooded with letters and telegrams from all the northern states, asking that the boy's sentence be commuted. Gov. Donaghy refused to discuss the matter, and has given no indication of how he will act.

Unless the executive intervenes, Gilchrist will be hanged in December.

The fellow who doesn't amount to much loses no time in letting us know it.

ASTONISHES WORLD WITH MOTORLESS AIRSHIP

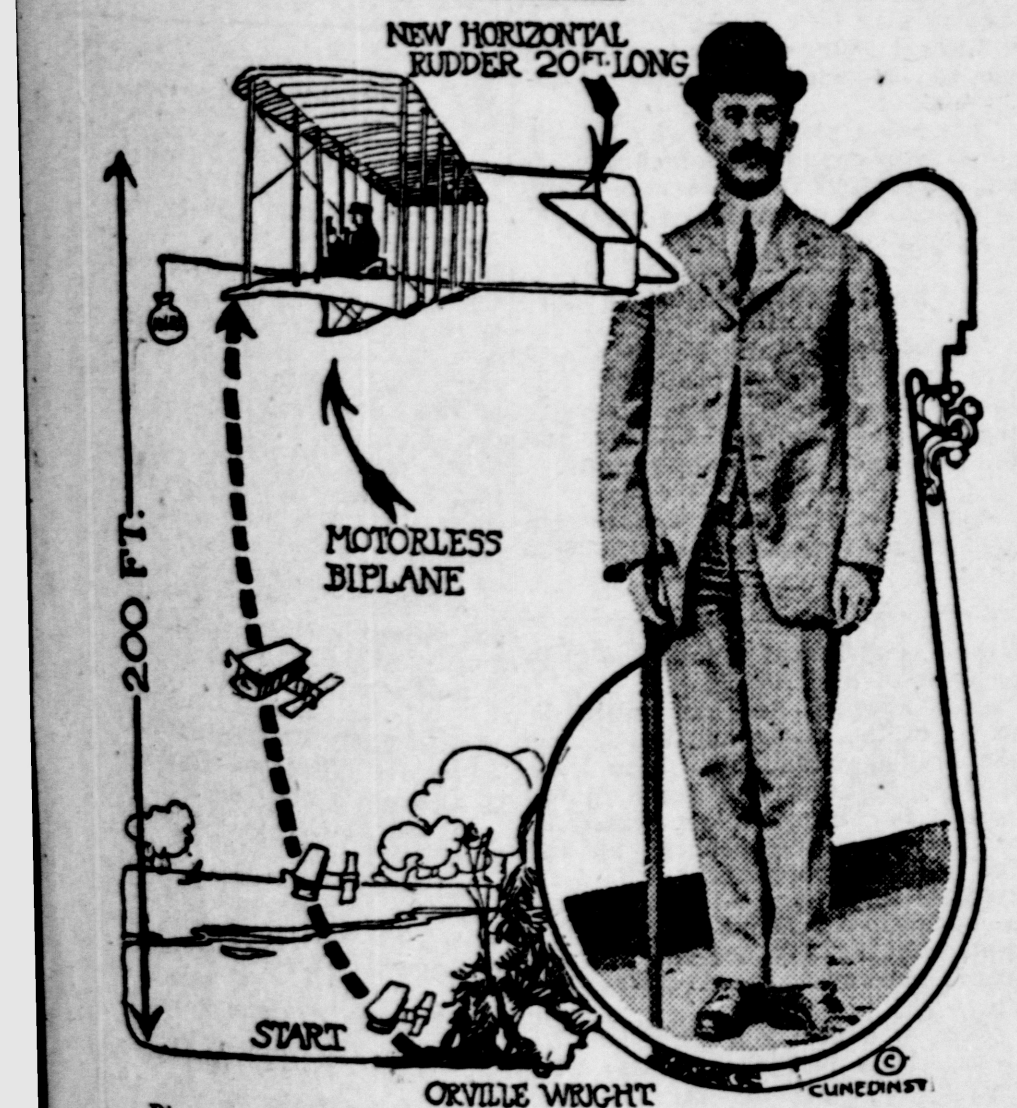

Diagram of Wright Glider and Picture of Famous Inventor
KIDD DEVIL HILL, N. C.—The experiments of the last few days by the Wright Brothers who have demonstrated fully the possibilities of heavier than air machine. For years it has been the contention of scientists that there would eventually be evolved a gliding machine which could remain in the air in a stiff wind hours motorless or soar to and fro with air currents without the necessity of a motor. The truth of this has been demonstrated to the entire satisfaction of the Wright Brothers. Orville Wright on October 24th succeeded in flying from the ground to a height of 200 feet remaining in a stable position over a minute, dropping again to the ground and soaring again to a comparatively high altitude, and in fact accomplishing marvels with his glider.

The success of these experiments is epoch making and of international interest.

Mr. Himmelman is at a loss to know who sent the letter, but is not seriously frightened over it.

PESHTIGO DAMS GO OUT

MARINETTE, Wis., Oct. 31.—It is reported in this city that three dams at the headwaters of the Peshtigo river have gone out, due to the heavy rains. The rush of water was held by the big dam of the Northern Hydro Electric company at High Falls. Great damage of Crivits and Peshtigo probably would have resulted had not the big dam held. High Falls dam is now backing up a reservoir of water eight miles long. If it should break a condition like the Black River Falls disaster might follow.

Advice to Those of Baggy Cheek and Chin

(From Pilgrim Magazine)
Let the woman whose cheek muscles are beginning to sag and who by the same token is acquiring a double chin, remember to keep her head up, is the advice of a celebrated beauty expert. Let her bathe her face, neck and chin in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. The result will surprise her, the lotion being so quickly effective. This treatment tightens and reduces skin and muscles, also strengthening and toning up the same.

Naturally the tightening effect disperses wrinkles and furrows. The lotion is very refreshing. Be sure to ask the druggist for the powdered saxolite.

SOCIETY

RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tessmann of 1509 Badger street, were host and hostess at a reception Sunday afternoon and evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Tessmann, who were married at Columbus, Wis., on Oct. 12th.

The afternoon and evening were spent socially and cards were also played. A bountiful supper was served and was immensely enjoyed by all those present. Ice cream and cake were served later in the evening.

Those present at the reception were the Messrs. and Mesdames Theodore Streck and children, August Streck and children, Frank Schmidt and daughter, Ruth, Henry J. Hoelzer and children, Fred Vehrunkamp and son, Harold, of Bangor, Wis.; the Misses Helen Streck and Minnie Wenzlaff; the Messrs. Leonard and Max Streck and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Tessmann.

ENTERTAINED

Miss Allie Pope very pleasantly entertained several friends at dinner in honor of Miss Bessie Liddell of Milwaukee. Covers were laid for eight. A most enjoyable time was spent.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Bernice Gayman pleasantly celebrated her fourteenth birthday by entertaining several of her young friends at her home, 1408 Vine street, last Saturday evening. Halloween decorations were used throughout the house. Those present were the Misses Lois Engleman, Amanda Zeisler, Laura Zeisler, Grace Upton, Lillian Tate, Mildred King, Jeanette Baker, Blanche Gayman and Bernice Gayman, the Messrs. Joe Upton, Donald Cameron, James Kelley, Hugh Marshall, Davis Dickinson, Walter Houghton.

A PROGRESSIVE DINNER

Saturday evening several young ladies gave a progressive dinner. One course being served at the home of each one of the members. The affair culminated at the home of Miss Jessie Wallace on Madison street, where the fruit course was served. Games and guessing contests were given and impromptu dancing was indulged in. The decorations were most elaborate and consisted in the usual Halloween display. Those present were the Misses Jessie Wallace, Elizabeth Wolfe, Ellen Hankerson, Mildred Scott, Mildred Waters, Frances Burroughs, Julia Colman, Helen Burke and Harriet Scofield.

HALLOWEEN AT THE Y. W. C. A.

Extensive preparations are going on at the Y. W. C. A. today getting ready for the usual Halloween doings. The decorations will be upon a very elaborate scale, the house being decorated from cellar to attic. All of the known stunts will be carried out. Ghosts and witches will act as guides and conduct the guests through the house and over the grounds. There will be three witch fortune tellers who predict the future as well, as tell of the past. Mrs. G. E. Mariner will be one of the "seers," being garbed as a Hawaiian prophetess and tell fortunes with Hawaiian cards. Miss Elizabeth Livingston and Miss May Dunn will be the other fortune tellers. Light refreshments will be served, one feature being individual pumpkin pies. The various clubs and classes will have charge of the rooms and forms of entertainments. There will be a program given in the gym, the evening to conclude with a "sing." All friends as well as members of the association are cordially invited to attend.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Mrs. D. J. Griswold of Galesburg, Ill., who have been the guest of Mrs. Charles Bentley for a couple of weeks, left today for her home. Mrs. Griswold's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ballard, formerly of this city, make their home with Dr. and Mrs. Griswold.

Mrs. G. C. Hixon, Miss Mary Crosby and Miss Nast left this noon for Chicago, where they will spend several weeks.

Mrs. Levi Withee and Ferol Delamater left last evening for Watertown, Fla.

Mrs. H. L. Partridge, and daughter, Miss Norma, returned Thursday from a five weeks trip to Missoula, Spokane, Tacoma, Seattle, Hood River, Salt Lake City. They visited several former La Crosse people, all of whom are doing well in the west.

A Hint of Economy.

"I wish you would quit talking about how well Gladys Ann paints and plays the piano," said Mrs. Cumrox.

UNION MEETING SUNDAY LARGELY ATTENDED; $1,800 RAISED DURING DAY'S SERVICE

The union meeting of the City Mission held Sunday morning at the La Crosse theater was largely attended and mission workers told numerous stories of what work they have done.

Testimonials were given by men of all classes who had attended and been benefited by the mission.

A total of $1,800 was raised at the meeting but as $2,000 was wanted a deficit of $200 remains.

Services were held at the county jail and the Y. M. C. A. in the afternoon, mission workers conducting the meetings which were very interesting. The day's services were closed in the evening when a meeting was held in the Tabernacle Baptist church on the north side.

LEG BROKEN IN BAD RUNAWAY

Roy Hill, Telephone Driver, Suffers Painful Injury as Result of Team's Mad Dash

A runaway caused by the dropping of the tongue of the wagon from the neckyoke, resulted in the fracture of a leg of Roy Hill, 613 North Ninth street, driver, employed by the Wisconsin Telephone company, at 1:15 this afternoon. Hill had just taken the team from the Derr barn near Fifth and Cass streets and as he reached that corner the tongue dropped.

According to Hill's story as he lay in a nearby house awaiting the ambulance to remove him to the hospital, the horses became frightened after the tongue dropped and made a wild dash south on Fifth street. He tried to stop the horses but finding this impossible attempted to jump clear of the wagon, as they turned the corner, only to be thrown under the wheels, one of which passed over his right leg below the knee.

The horses continued south on Fifth street and were finally brought to a stop between Fifth and Sixth on Division by Leo Foster, who caught the horses by the bits, slowly bringing them to a standstill. The wagon was almost completely destroyed and one of the horses was injured.

Dr. J. A. Rowles was called to attend the injured man and after examining the leg announced that it was fractured below the knee, but declared that it would not be necessary to amputate the leg. Mr. Hill was removed to the La Crosse hospital.

IS A SCIENCE NOT RELIGION

Christian Science Is Not Merely a Belief, Avers Dr. Fluno in Lecture Last Night

Francis J. Fluno, C. S. D., Boston, Mass., a member of the board of trustees of the mother church of the Christian Scientists, delivered a lecture last evening on Christian Science at the Congregational church, under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of La Crosse. Mr. Fluno was introduced by Prof. L. P. Benezet, city superintendent of schools.

Dr. Fluno said in part: "Christian Science is the law of truth, known, understood, and found demonstrable. It is the science of being, the science of life. It is the knowledge of truth and true being, reduced to a system. Its name defines it, for it is perfectly Christian, because it countenances no wrong, either in theory or practice. It is scientific, for it admits of no error, either in premise or conclusion."

"Christian Scientists are individuals who have found this truth and found it to be true; found Christian Science and found it to be scientific, and are succeeding in a measure to demonstrate it upon themselves and others who come to them for help."

"The Bible and 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' by Mary Baker Eddy, are the text books of Christian Science. Christian Science is not another religious belief; it is science. And science is something to be understood and demonstrated, not merely believed. Christian Scientists are studying to understand Christian Science, but not trying to believe it. Christian Science is not something that Mrs. Eddy has created or invented. It is what she has discovered and given to the world. Science and health and the Bible, when rightly understood, disclose the fact that God is the only mind and the so-called mortal mind is but the carnal mind, that must be corrected by divine mind."

"Christian Science is not the mere superficial idea of not speaking evil or not talking sickness, but that sickness and evil are not the facts of being; they therefore are not only unprofitable topics of conversation, but are not true, and if spoken of at all, they must be exposed as errors and not facts of being."

GARBAGE COLLECTION IS STOPPED TODAY

This is the last day that the wagons will collect garbage around the city, as provisions have been made for only six months of this kind of work. As no provision of the council has been made for continuing the collecting of garbage, the wagons will be taken off today.

CORPSES LITTER BANKS OF RIVER

Chinese Rebels Capture Hankow After Bloody Hand-to-Hand Battle

IMPERIALS IN FULL RETREAT

Caught Unawares while Butchering Non-combatants; City in Heaps of Ruins

SHANGHAI, Oct. 31.—The rebels recaptured Hankow Sunday, after the bloodiest battle since the revolution broke out, according to native information brought here today. Wireless dispatches from foreign warships in the Yangtze river off the city refer to fighting today, but it is not clear whether they mean Sunday's engagement or that fighting has been resumed.

Since Friday, the rebel death roll is placed at 1,000; the imperialist at 300. This does not include the Hankow citizens slaughtered by the imperialists after the rebels had retreated from there across the river to Wu Chang.

As suspected the rebel defeat resulting in the loss of Hankow was not serious. They were outnumbered however, and finding their position difficult to hold, fell back on Wu Chang, which has been their headquarters during the rebellion. Reinforced and supplied with ammunition they pursued the struggle. Instead of entrenching themselves in Hankow, the imperialists had been busy looting and burning the city, and butchering its inhabitants. Despite the intense fire from the imperialists ashore and their supporting gunboats in the river, the rebels forced their way across the stream and engaged the enemy hand to hand.

The battle raged for some time among the river bank which is described as littered with corpses. The stream itself is thickly covered with them, floating with the current towards Shanghai. The struggle is said to have been almost incredibly furious, many of the combatants being not only killed, but literally chopped to bits. The imperialists, finally driven from the city and are reported as fleeing northward in disorder.

The greater part of the city is said to be a series of heaps of blackened ruins. Much uneasiness is felt for foreigners who may have neglected to take refuge aboard the foreign warships in time.

Late reports by wireless from the foreign warships of Hankow make it plain that, though the rebels have driven the imperialists from the city proper, the battle is still raging in the outskirts. No quarter is being shown on either side. It is believed the dead will run into thousands.

The rebels it appears, drove imperial warships from the position in the Yangtze between Hankow and Wu Chang by a devastating fire from their forts on the Wu Chang shore, which they held. The flotilla, compelled to drop down the river out of range of the two cities, left the way clear for the rebels to make their crossing without suffering the cross fire which drove them from Hankow on the day of its recapture by the imperial troops.

Y. M. C. A. FORUM IS NEW DEBATE CLUB

The Y. M. C. A. Forum is the name of the new debating society which was organized by the Junior and Intermediate members of the Y. M. C. A. last evening. A constitution and by-laws were drawn up and adopted by the society. The society also adopted the motto "We will find a way or make one" and the colors, Pink and Olive Green.

The following officers were elected last evening:

President—James Pederson.
Vice-president—Lester Smith.
Secretary—Donald Dean.
Treasurer—Gerald Hyde.
Regent—Harry Ender.

The president appointed the following committees:

The initiating committee composed of Rueben Benike, chairman, Edwin Benton, and William Goldberg.

The membership committee consisting of Roy Weigel, chairman, Julien Bloom, Wallace Montague, Gerald Westby and John McGrath.

The entertainment committee consisting of Gerald Hyde, chairman, Forrest Fillion and Julien Bloom.

The regent appointed Benike and Beisel beside himself as chairman on the regents committee.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

AM DE ELKS REAL MINSTRELS, HON'?

mony brought out by the big chorus won enthusiastic approval.

There is so much real music in the Elks' quartet, composed of Al and Orlando Hegge, Ruel Russell and Jess Brenner, that they needed no orchestral accompaniment. There is no music like the human voice.

The audience went toe-tapping again when Mr. Emil Niemeyer sang "All Aboard for Monkey Town." This was accompanied by dancing so clever the audience was amazed, and the choruses were given by the entire first part.

Mrs. Grace McLinden-Bartl is always a favorite. But she seemed to distinguish herself especially last night in her catchy "Havana." This was without question one of the best numbers on the splendid program and that the charm of her voice won the approval of the audience was proven by the repeated encores she received.

Frank Burgess, always an optimist—is "getting better all the time." You never hear him kick unless Larry's lunch is exceptionally bad. Last night Mr. Burgess told his friends beyond the footlights that "Things are Comin' Mah Way," and a little later the applause bore out his contention.

"Close Dat Eye"

Miss Alma Hosly, a charming singer always, in a lullaby, "Close Dat Eye," was particularly pleasing last evening. Miss Hosly has a sweet voice, well controlled and balanced and her song was one of those pretty melodies that is not forgotten in a day.

Holley Shepard, "the man who made these minstrels," could draw a lot more money in straight vaudeville than he gets manufacturing performers out of raw material, but somehow Holley likes the Elks, so he spends his time training them to be stars like himself. Holley is a clever dancer and he knows just what to do on the stage. "Any Rags" is an old song, but it seemed new when Holley sang it, and danced a laugh provoking accompaniment. And so, with Holley and the chorus smiling their appreciation of the liberal applause, the first part ended.

Instantly there was the buzz of conversation as the curtain fell and through the hum of many voices came distinctly and repeatedly "good," "very good" and "fine," from all parts of the house. The audience congratulated themselves that the Elks' minstrel show was just about the best performance they had ever seen, and, from the success of the first part, that they surely had seen the best of it. In this they were disappointed. Many of the prettiest features had been reserved by Mr. Shepard for the second part.

The opening number was a cafe scene and a sextette which made the original Floradora look like milk maids and barn boys. Mr. Shepard had not trained his proteges half way. They knew their steps, the clever flings, and all the "little movements" that made up a pretty dance and song. While this sextette was like others in many ways, there was something about it which distinguished it as original and decidedly classy. The six young men were attired in full dress while the young ladies wore striking gowns. Appearing in this charming number were the Misses May Alken, Viola Doerflinger, Eleanor Marston, Maud Boyd.

The Closing Feature

An evening of unadulterated enjoyment was charmingly closed by the drill and spectacle featured by Mr. Emil Niemeyer and the Misses Elsa Newburg, Antoinette Lennon, Mary O'Connell, Verna Hulberg, Ruth Palmer, Helen Kroner, Hazel Viets, Leona Doerflinger, Lois Halik, Hattie Houthmaker, Josephine Warsaw, Josephine Wiggenhorn, Bertha Muller, Ella Gage, Maude Wallace and Esther Nyhus. Seldom on the professional stage is there seen a nicer or more nearly perfect performance than this. They danced, they sang and did all the tricks of stage art, as though it were second nature.

The end came too soon when the entire company entered and sang "Auld Lang Syne."

All-in-all the Elks' minstrel show was without any doubt the best amateur performance ever seen in La Crosse. Mr. Shepard and his wife, who about a month ago, began coaching the players, certainly are master hands. The entire performance went off with a snap and liveliness which is something new to home talent productions. There were no blunders, no false starts, no missteps. It was a professional show if there ever was one, and there seems no doubt that the second performance this evening will be greeted with another packed house.

And there were flowers, too—lots

JUDGE BORDWELL REBUKES DARROW

McNamara Defense Angry Over Ruling on Challenge of Opinionated Veniremen

SEVEN MEN NOW IN THE BOX

Interest in Primary Election Overshadows Today's Trial; Jurors Go Out to Vote

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 31.—Interest in the primary election overshadowed today's session of the McNamara trial, the jurors now in the box being rushed to the polls and permitted to vote before court opened. There are now seven men in the box who have been passed by both sides, and an eighth against whom the defense has tried to lodge an impeachment challenge, which is considered almost certain to fail.

Those passed for cause are: S. B. Manning, rancher; Robert Bain, carpenter; F. D. Green, capitalist; Walter N. Frampton, farmer; George W. McKee, retired builder; A. C. Winter, butcher; Samuel F. Mendenhall, farmer.

Challenged for bias, but likely to remain: George W. Johnson, retired molder.

Yesterday's session was eventful and was marked by much wrangling between attorneys and a severe rebuking of the defense by Judge Bordwell.

This was especially noticeable when the defense was trying to get rid of Venireman Johnson, who characterized all union men as "tramps," when he said he had conscientious scruples against hanging a man on circumstantial evidence alone, the defense challenged. The challenge was ruled out by the court, who held the defense could not challenge for this cause, that being a right exclusively retained by the state.

Darrow was very angry and said that was the first time in his life he had ever heard there was one kind of law for the state and another for the defense. He cited the code and insisted that such a juror should not be "permitted or compelled to serve," and declared Bordwell had committed a reversible error by his ruling.

The present indications are that the defense will have to use four peremptories and the state two to remove men from the box, leaving only Manning and possibly Green. The state has ten, the defense twenty peremptories.

Marion Harrison and Vance Pooler, and the Messrs. A. Hegge, Jack Wehaupt, Ruel Russell, Earl Richmond, Jesse Brenner and Joseph Kidder.

Those Coons Again

Mr. Shepard and Mr. Burgess had put on so much make-up for the occasion and they had so many things to spring it was impossible to keep them off the stage. So when the sextette answered its final encores and the flowers were distributed these two comedians—and we say it advisedly—put on the best line of "new stuff" that the evening witnessed.

"Lazy Moon" has always been a favorite "11 to 12 o'clock" melody around the Elks' club, and it was therefore fitting that this good old tune be a part of the show. Miss Elsie Ott sang it cleverly, and was assisted by Messrs. Emil Niemeyer, Jerome Larson, Steve Streicher, Will Owens, Earl Richmond, Emil Albertson, Aubrey, Jake Padesky, Hugh Mess and Charles Anderson.

The audience had been waiting all evening for the "Rube act." It had been whispered about town for some days that this was to be the feature of the great program, and it was. The inimitable Bill Hurtgen, the unmistakable Will Wigggenhorn, big, good natured L. B. Raymond, no less popular man than Herman Klein, and no less handsome one than Dr. H. McGovern, attired in the most grotesque garments of down east "Scissor-Bills," surely "brought down the house," and kept it there. If anyone thought Bill Hurtgen couldn't dance, they changed their mind last night as they did about the other four, and Danny Dineen, romping across the stage with his clever clogs, put a finishing touch on this real Orpheum attraction.

What part of this newspaper entertained the reader although it is dark? The ink.

of them, distributed among the players by admiring friends.

Holly Shepard has had entire direction of the attraction, but he has been ably assisted by Anna Dork Shepard, his wife, who can even tell Holly a few things about minstrels.

The committee in charge for the Elks was composed of L. B. Raymond, Al Hegge and Art Ruplin, and the box office receipts for the first night, and the advance sale for the second, shows they did their work well.

There was nearly a train load of Winona Elks and their ladies who came down especially for the performance, and who occupied a conspicuous position on the lower floor. Miss Anna Ahern, who appeared also in the Winona minstrel performance, under Mr. Shepard's direction, would have been amply repaid for her song had none but her Winona friends applauded, for their approval of this popular young lady thundered over the entire house.

While practically the entire lower floor has been sold out for tonight, there remains plenty of good seats in the balcony.

RIVERS & HARBORS DELEGATE IN CITY

Special Representative to Address Businessmen at Big Mass Meeting Wednesday

John A. Fox, a special director of the National Rivers and Harbors congress arrived in La Crosse this afternoon on his tour of upper Mississippi river cities awakening great interest in the coming meet to be held in Washington, D. C. Mr. Fox is urging closer co-operation among river towns and was here three years ago, at which time he addressed a large gathering of business men at a meeting held in the city hall.

Mr. Fox is this afternoon appearing before a meeting of the board of directors of the La Crosse board of trade.

A mass meeting of business men is planned for tomorrow evening, and will probably be held in the city hall. At this meeting Mr. Fox will outline the plans of the congress, and make clear to the citizens the part they must play in this undertaking.

"It is my function," said Mr. Fox today, "to visit every city in the United States located upon waterways and having an interest in the appropriation among these cities in carrying out the mission of this great organization. Since here three years ago a vast number of cities have gone into the congress, so that it is now composed of over 400 principal cities of the United States."

"As I stated, the mission of this great national body is to awaken public sentiment generally throughout the United States, so that appropriations for definite projects, such as Upper Mississippi River improvement, may be provided for by congress, with larger and more regular amounts."

"The first principle brought about by this congress, and which La Crosse did much to aid, was the adoption by congress of such projects as this with some definite idea as to ultimate completion."

"In 1910, after arduous efforts on the part of this body, congress recognized the upper Mississippi river project, sanctioned the expenditure of $20,000,000 it was estimated to cost, and recommended that this great undertaking be completed in eleven years. We must continue the work of this congress according to the ideas of the river and harbors commission, for two or three years, until definite precedents have been established. To emphasize this fact I made a visit to all cities located on waterways this year."

MALTYBY TO COME HERE AT ONCE

Expert Engineer Called to City and Committee Will Discuss Bradish's Report with Him

The meeting of aldermen, called yesterday afternoon to hear the report of City Engineer George Bradish, which was a protest against the well system, decided to call A. T. Maltby, expert engineer engaged to install the well system here, to La Crosse.

Mr. Maltby will be here in a day or two, will meet the committee and is expected to answer Bradish's intimations that his test was not thorough and adequate and in reality was nothing more than a follow-up on the investigations of Prof. Charles S. Slichter, expert engineer who made the investigation upon which the Wisconsin railroad commission based its report.

"I can see nothing for us to do but follow the order of the rate commission," said one prominent democratic alderman today, "and while Mr. Bradish may be right in some of his findings I believe the city is fairly safe in following the order of the commission."

This same alderman, who has attained some renown as a leader in the council, scoffed the idea of a possible re-opening of the matter with the rate commission.

FAMOUS STORY TOLD IN MOTION PICTURES

Charles Reade's famous romantic novel "Foul Play" will be shown complete in three reels at the Bijou theatre tonight. This is one of the most pretentious motion picture productions ever made of a modern story, and the fact that it is made by the Edison company is a guarantee of quality.

The story is gripping and the action intensely interesting from start to finish. The pictures are accompanied by a lecture, giving the impression of a play rather than a picture show. Eastern critics have been unanimous in declaring this a wonderful dramatic pictorial presentation of a popular novel.

LOTS OF SOFT, FLUFFY, LUSTROUS HAIR AND NEVER ANY DANDRUFF

You can double the beauty of your hair in ten minutes with a little Danderine.

When you see a head of heavy hair, that gleams with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, you can at once conclude that this man or woman is using Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately detangles and dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flail, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate but get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25 cent bottle will truly amaze you.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN.

At the Grand Opera hall Friday evening an audience of taxpayers, members of the city council and others interested in the public library needs and opportunities of this city, given by Hon. M. S. Dudgeon of Madison, secretary of the Wisconsin free library commission. In a plain and comprehensive manner Mr. Dudgeon covered the local situation giving much interesting information. With the beginning now made a tax of about 50 cents per $1,000 would provide Prairie du Chien with a library to fit its needs for years to come.

On Saturday evening, November 4, the annual meeting of the Library association will be held at the council chambers, at which time definite action will be taken on the proposition of turning the library over to the city.

The seniors of the high school German club, "Der Kleine Deutsche Bund," have issued very attractive invitations, written in German on corn husks tied with the red, white and black German colors, for a Hal-loween party to be given at the high school building Tuesday evening. The high school faculty and the juniors of the German club will be their guests, thirty-two in number. The usual mystic rites of the date will be practiced and the services of a competent fortune teller have been secured.

RICHESON MAY BE INDICTED TODAY

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—Rev. C. T. v. Richeson will know whether he will have to stand trial on a charge of murdering his former sweetheart, 19 year old Avis Linnell, by cyanide poisoning.

When the special grand jury met today there was every indication that a finding would be returned this afternoon. Defense lawyers admitted there was but one probable outcome of the grand jury's deliberations.

It was admitted today by Chief Inspector Dugan that the three girls who visited Richeson at Charles street jail Saturday night and again yesterday afternoon are waitresses from a restaurant in which Richeson and Avis Linnell are thought to have dined on the fatal Saturday afternoon.

An Innovation in Oil Heaters

The Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater, with its drums enameled in turquoise, is an ornament to any room, whether in the country or city home.

No home is quite complete without a Perfection Oil Heater. It is a necessity in the fall and spring, when it is too warm to start the regular heating apparatus, and too cool to be without heat. In the midst of winter it is often convenient as an auxiliary heater, as there are always some cold corners in a house.

The enameled heater always presents a nice appearance, as the enamel will not tarnish or burn off. It is not an "enamel paint," but it is the same as the enamel of your cooking utensils.

The Perfection is the most reliable and convenient portable heating device you can find. An automatically-locking flame spreader prevents turning the wick high enough to smoke.

Designs everywhere. Ask yours to show you the Perfection Heater enameled; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of

PARTY FUSION IS URGED BY WILSON

New Jersey Governor Speaks on Progressive Policies and Reforms at Dallas, Texas

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 31.—Progressive policies and the rehabilitation of the nation through progressive reforms was the text upon which Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey urged a co-operation of interests through a big crowd assembled at the Texas state fair.

"We are now divided, not so distinctly into democrats and republicans as we are into progressives and those who resist change," he asserted. "Prosperity itself rests upon the people and the facts. A contented and hopeful people means a rich and varied economic development. The people of the United States are not contented. They are just now not as hopeful as they should be. They are suspicious of the foundations of their business. They are convinced that something inequitable lies at the basis of the great power which small bodies of men now exercise in the business world. These are the conditions, not of prosperity, but of disquiet, and there is only one remedy for them—the remedy which progressives seek. They seek it, not with hostility to business, but with hostility to the present conditions which make wholesome business impossible. Propose Sober Regulation

"They seek adjustment, accommodations of interest. They merely propose sober regulation. They are fighting not business, but monopoly; not prosperity, but the determination by limited bodies of men of the form which our prosperity shall take. They cannot be silenced, they cannot be shunted to one side. They are speaking the opinions and the convictions of the people. Once entrusted with authority, they will accomplish their objects with the self-possession and moderation of statesmen and patriots."

Paying a high compliment to the ability of republican progressive leaders, Wilson asserted that they were only a minority in their party and pleaded for a co-operation by them, in making the democratic party, which he described as "standing nearer the people and is controlled by progressive sentiments."

SUIT MAY STOP DAM AT KEOKUK

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 31.—Suit to stop the construction of the huge dam across the Mississippi river at Keokuk, Iowa, has begun in the United States circuit court by the Mills-Ellsworth company of Keokuk, which owns a large amount of real estate above the dam.

The Mills-Ellsworth company claims that the dam, which will be one of the largest in the world when completed, will back up water and cover a large amount of valuable real estate and that the company which is constructing the dam has no charter from the state of Illinois or the state of Iowa. The company expected to have available 120,000 horse power of electrical current by July 1, 1913.

THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAIMED BY TAFT

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—A day of thanksgiving and prayer, on Thursday, November 30, was prescribed to the whole country today by President Taft, in his Thanksgiving proclamation. Following a long statement of the country's reasons for thanksgiving, the proclamation sets forth:

"I, William Howard Taft, president of the United States of America, designate Thursday, the 30th of November next, as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer, and I earnestly call upon my countrymen, and upon all that dwell under the flag of our beloved country, then to meet in their accustomed places of worship, to join in offering praise to Almighty God, and devout thanks for the loving mercies He has shown us."

Rich harvests, industrial prosperity, enlarged markets, freedom from famine, pestilence and war are mentioned in the preamble of the proclamation.

The Taft policy of peace is cited as follows:

"Our national councils have furthered the cause of peace in other lands and the spirit of benevolence has brought us into closer touch with other peoples. Strong in the sense of our own right and inspired by as strong a sense of the rights of others we live in peace and harmony with the world. Rich in the priceless possession and abundant resources wherewith the unstinted boundary of God has endowed us, we are unselfishly glad when other people pass on ward to prosperity and peace."

IT IS EASIER TO SAVE THE HAIR

You Have Than to Grow New

The tendency to put off until tomorrow what we should do today accounts for most of the bald heads we see in the front row.

Newbro's Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. The dandruff germ is destroyed by its use and a condition of health maintained in the hair and scalp.

Nearly everyone has hair troubles of some description which Herpicide will always correct. Don't wait until it is too late.

It is conceded to be the standard hair remedy and is recommended and applied by all the best hair dressers and barbers.

SAFETY APPLIANCE LAW IS UPHELD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The constitutionality of the safety appliance act of 1893, with the amendments of 1903, was upheld by the supreme court of the United States in a decision today in the case against the Southern Railway company.

Suit was brought by the United States to recover penalties for the failure of the road to equip certain cars with automatic couplers and other devices as required by law.

MEXICAN REVOLT MADERO SCHEME

President-elect Accused of Helping Rebels; Capital Threatened with Pillage

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 31.—Openly asserting that the present revolution under Emiliano Zapata is fostered and financed by Francisco Madero, president-elect of Mexico, three Mexico City papers today prophesied that the rebellion would rise up and overwhelm its creator, ending either in the return of Diaz or the placing of General Bernardino Reyes in the presidency.

Although the federal troops are today reported as holding their own against the Zapatistas now within a few miles of the capital, there is a constantly recurring fear that the marauders may break through and loot and pillage the capital. This fear is entertained despite the fact that they are said to have been instructed by Madero, who is claimed to have instigated the rebellion against the De La Barra government so that he might have the glory of quelling it when he is inaugurated on November 5, not to enter the gates of Mexico City.

If Madero really planned the Zapata revolt to discredit the provisional government, his scheme is succeeding admirably, as is shown by the resignation of three of De La Barra's cabinet on account of their inability to subdue the rebels. Those who have resigned are: General Jose Gonzales Salas acting minister of war; Alberto Garcia Granados, minister of the interior, and Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, minister of public instruction.

The railroad demurred, holding the act unconstitutional because it applied to cars whether it was engaged in intrastate or interstate commerce. The lower court overruled the demurrer and the supreme court today affirmed that decision. The original act applied to cars used in interstate commerce. The amendments enlarged it to apply to all cars used on interstate roads.

GOOD JUDGMENT SUGGESTS— GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

MEDICAL HELP NEEDED BY EXCESSIVE DRINKERS TORTURES PREVENTED BY THE NEAL TREATMENT

How "Winning Fights" Against the Drink Habit Are Waged at the Neal Institute, Milwaukee

It was at a recent afternoon gathering of club women that a lady, prominent in church mission work, declared: "For the first time in my life I began to realize what it means for the victim of drink to try to quit. I have never touched alcoholic liquor, but my doctor took tea and coffee away from me a few weeks ago. I have been in misery ever since. The fight I am having must be something like that which the excessive drinker experiences when he tries to stop liquor. My heart goes out today, as it never did before, in sympathy for the drinker who is trying to quit. I can now appreciate the suffering he must endure."

Excessive drinkers rarely stop of their own accord. They try hard enough, but find themselves seized with a resistless craving desire which upsets their resolutions and will. It isn't advice, abuse or harsh criticisms that an excessive drinker needs as a corrective, but help—such help as thousands are getting every month in the Neal Treatment for the Drink Habit, administered at Milwaukee and sixty odd other Neal institutes throughout American, Canadian and Australian cities.

The excessive drinker who makes up his mind to stop is inviting torture. This explains the failure of so many good intentions. The craving and desire which drags victims of the habit back to drink is simply a natural result of their physical condition. Every excessive drinker is saturated with alcoholic poison. His system is impregnated with it. This poison which causes the craving must be neutralized before it can be eliminated. The Neal Treatment does both. Three days of the treatment are sufficient to bring about this seeming miracle. All craving and desire for liquor disappear. Shattered nerves are restored, muddled brains cleared, dull eyes brightened, dull appetites whetted and spirits revived.

The Neal Treatment is a vegetable remedy, taken internally and administered by regular physicians. There are positively no hypodermic injections.

Guests while taking treatment at the Neal Institute enjoy all the comforts and privacy of home, club or hotel. Names are never divulged.

For complete information write the Neal Institute, 444 Cass street, Milwaukee.

HOW GERMS SPREAD SKIN DISEASE

Eczema, Psoriasis and other skin troubles are caused by myriads of germs at work in the skin. Unless these germs are promptly destroyed they rapidly multiply, gnawing their way deep into the sensitive tissue. This is what causes that awful itch, and what seemed a mere rash may grow worse and develop into a loathsome and torturing skin disease with its years of misery.

Don't take any chances! Destroy the germs at the beginning of the trouble with that soothing and cleansing wash, the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema.

A 25c bottle will prove this to you. We have had experience with many remedies for skin trouble but have never seen such remarkable cures as those from D. D. D. Prescription. Instant relief from the very first application.

We are so confident that D. D. D. will reach your case that it will cost you nothing if the very first full size bottle fails to make good every claim.

If you have skin troubles of any kind we certainly advise you to drop in and investigate the merits of D. D. D. anyway. We know that D. D. D. will help you.

A. A. A. National Touring Champion

They completed their daily journey on the exact schedule, although several times the committee conducting the event had to extend the fixed schedule time to offset unexpectedly difficult conditions met with. The Maxwells never needed these extensions.

Besides the great victory of the Maxwell team in the Glidden Tour, another Maxwell Car, the entry of Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia, won the Anderson trophy for the best individual record.

The Maxwell victory is made more remarkable by the fact that it

Grain Letter
CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The force that boosted wheat prices on Monday was expended today and there was no new crop of bull news. This added to lack of support from outside markets, cover by shorts, and the disinclination of bull leaders friendly to the market on reactions to take hold for an advance, caused a goodly break today.

Favorable conditions are forecast for the corn belt, and the weather map indicated that rain was confined to the territory east of Chicago. This may have had an influence on the large selling orders in that grain.

Oats were very heavy. The market exhibited considerable general selling but there was no disposition to support the market.

Provisions were dull and the market heavy, with but a little buying of a miscellaneous character.

BARBER GETS HIS MONEY—ALMOST

Customer Prefers Bunk in Police Station to Parting with His Cash

To those who have nearly drowned off in a barber's chair, responding in monosyllables or by nod of the head to the queries "Shampoo?" "Tonic?" "Massage?" and the like, the experience of one Tommy Ward, will be interesting.

Ward, who spends a good deal of his time along the banks of the Mississippi, entered Linker's tonsorial emporium Saturday, determined to emerge therefrom clean shaven and immaculate—as far as his physiognomy was concerned.

Tommy was an easy "patient," maintaining a quiet pose throughout the operation. He also proved a "good spender" for he consented to having his hair shampooed, mustache curled and other trimmings.

Tommy left the chair, the porter was unusually active in brushing and after being handed his hat by the expectant Greek porter, started for the door.

"The check," gently reminded the barber.

"How much is it?" queried Tommy.

"Sixty-five cents," was the reply.

Tommy pulled out a handful of change, looked at it and muttering "I'll be darned if I do," again started for the exit.

"Copper!" Johnson saw him coming and blocked the door with his massive frame.

Again Tommy went through the operation of pulling out the money while the barber bowed and the porter continued to flick dust from his coat collar. He eyed his change, then slammed it back into his pocket and determinedly announced that he'd "be darned if he'd pay."

At this juncture the rotund figure of Bill Horschak, policeman, rolled into view and he was deputized to help collect the fee. Bill, not desirous of seeing a man languish in central station, urged him to meet his just obligations. For the third time Tommy pulled out the money and eyed it, separated the sixty-five cents from the rest and started to hand it to the barber. But he changed his mind, his jaw clamped tight and the money went back to the pocket and he repeated, "I'll be darned if I pay."

He was then taken to central police station and by this time seemed to be impressed with the seriousness of the situation. "Why of course I'll pay," announced Ward to Chief Weber. "I was only foolin'."

The chief called up the barber shop, ascertained the amount of the bill and told Tommy.

Again Tommy pulled out the money, changed his mind, slammed it into his pocket and announced that he'd "be darned if he'd pay."

Tommy wasn't given another opportunity. He is now reposing in "No. 6" at central station, from which place he will emerge when he is taken into court.

RAILROAD TUNNEL NEARS COMPLETION

TOMAH, Wis., Oct. 31.—The village of Tunnel City, four miles west of Tomah and beautifully situated amongst the hills, but which has been badly desecrated by the railroad work which has been done through the town for the year, is gradually resuming its normal appearance. The excavations are being completed. Many changes have taken place, stores and houses being moved to other lots. The general appearance of the place is much altered and on the whole the village looks even better than before.

The work of the Northwestern railway is progressing very favorably. The grading and cuts are now almost completed and the work of excavating the tunnel was finished during the past week. The work of concreting the tunnel is now in progress on the west end. This will take several months. Large crews of men are working day and night removing dirt and constructing the frame for the cement crew to work on. Thus far no accidents of a serious nature have occurred.

Miss Monica Miller of Eau Claire visited at her parental home here Sunday.

How to Safely Peel Your Face

(From Beauty Culture)

If you have a muddy, sallow or blotchy complexion, the most sensible thing to do is to remove it—rather than to patch it over or "doctor" it with any cosmetic, rouge or lotion. The only way to really remove the complexion—aside from resorting to an expensive and painful surgical operation—is by means of ordinary mercurized wax. Spread the wax over the face, as you would cold cream, washing it off in the morning. This gradually absorbs the lifeless and the half dead outer skin, in minute, almost invisible particles—and gradually the fresh young skin beneath beams forth. Then you have a clear, smooth, velvety, healthy-hued complexion, such as no unnatural method can possibly produce.

Surface defects due to weather, ill-health or the ravages of time, of course disappear with the discarded skin. Ask the druggist for an ounce of pure mercurized wax; this is usually sufficient.

STOMACH MISERY JUST VANISHES

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn and Dyspepsia go five minutes after taking Pape's Diapepsin

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of Stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapepsin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy Stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why it makes Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distress go in five minutes, and relieves at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructations of sour, undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other Stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from Indigestion and Dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common, every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest. Instead, it ferments and turns to acid. Gas and Stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract and intestines, and besides poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapepsin.

BLACK RIVER THANKS LA CROSSE

Mayor Dengler Receives Letters from Heads of Fund Committee Today

That the fund of $650.00 which was raised here for the benefit of the victims of the recent flood at Black River Falls was appreciated is evident from the letters received by Mayor John Dengler yesterday from State Treasurer A. H. Dahl and J. H. Levis, secretary of the relief committee at Black River Falls. Both express the hearty thanks of the people as well as the gratitude felt for the aid received. A receipt for the amount raised here was sent by the treasurer of Black River Falls.

The letters acknowledging the receipt of the $650.00 and thanking the city for their contributions are as follows:

"John Dengler, Mayor, 'La Crosse, Wis.,

"Dear sir:

"Your favor of October 23, enclosing draft for $650.00 as a contribution for the flood sufferers of this city was duly and gratefully received and we enclose herewith our treasurer's receipt for the same. In reference to the carload of provisions to the value of $1,000.00 received immediately following the disaster which overtook our city on the 6th., that was probably acknowledged by the former committee. However, for fear the matter was overlooked in all the hurly-burly following our trouble we wish to make mention of the fact here.

"La Crosse certainly did well and we certainly appreciate the contributions you have sent us. Kindly express to your people our sincere thanks for what they have done.

"Sincerely and gratefully yours,

"RELIEF COMMITTEE,

"J. H. LEVIS."

Dahl's letter

"Honorable John Dengler, 'La Crosse, Wis.

"My Dear Mr. Dengler:

"I wish to acknowledge with very many thanks the contribution of the citizens of La Crosse, which you sent me this morning, being a draft for $650.00.

"I assure you that this is appreciated by the committee and by the flood sufferers of the city of Black River Falls. La Crosse has done nobly, and they have certainly contributed to a worthy cause, for the conditions at that city are certainly deplorable.

"You will receive the official receipt from the secretary of our committee.

"With kindest personal regards, I wish to remain,

"Yours very truly,

"A. H. DAHL,

"Treasurer."

Envy Her Lovely Hair?

When you see a woman who uses this dry shampoo to dress her hair instead of soap, water, soda and the like you are almost certain to witness the looks of admiration and envy which other women and girls cast at her.

The following home made dry shampoo certainly works wonders in a short time on a frizzy, stringy, oily, dirty head of hair, be it man or woman:

Just mix 2 ounces of antiseptic vilane powder with 6 ounces of powdered orris root. Apply a tablespoonful and distribute through the hair with the fingers. Permit to remain several hours or over night and then brush and comb out all traces of it. The hair becomes beautifully lustrous, fluffy and clean looking, often assuming a slight wave hitherto unknown.

THE COOK vs. THE RANGE

The best cook that ever was born can't turn out a good meal on a poor range. If your stove is not right and the cook is, fire the range. If your range is a Stewart Steel range and the meals are not satisfactory, fire the cook. For baking and good cooking there is nothing like the

You don't run any risk in buying a Stewart Steel

Range. It's the acme of perfection, as good and genuine as gold dollars. Every part of every range is
